

Small Group Leader Training – Endorsements

Crystal (from New York, USA)

Love this series of extensive training for how to be a small group leader. It's full of practical tips and tricks down to the small details. Whether you have never lead a group before or are a seasoned small group leader, you can learn some new things from these videos. It's not only for faith-based small group leaders; it's also good for leading other type of small groups. Church/organization, if you like to train up some leaders to lead small groups, this is a good place to start!

This course is brilliant! Grounded in the Bible, it is warm and energetic. I love the bite size approach with the three sections which scaffold each other. So, whether you work through step by step, or select the most relevant sections, there is something for new and experienced leaders. It is a great resource for churches and growing disciples.

Steven (from New York, USA)

This course is a well-crafted practical and easy to follow guide for individuals wanting to begin their journey in small group leadership. I really like and appreciate the way the course is laid out into short relevant topics. Very useful and very much needed in any ministry context.

Tiff (from Arkansas, USA)

Gregg Farah's spirit-filled passion for small groups is evident in the video series Small Group Leader Training. He cares about equipping, encouraging, and energizing small group leaders whether you are a first-timer or a seasoned small group leader. By sharing scripture, practical applications, and asking thought-provoking questions at the end of each section, Gregg will make you feel more confident in leading your small group to more meaningful study, engaging fellowship, and deepening their relationship with God.

Julie (from the Netherlands)

The Small Group Leader Training videos are practical, motivating, and encouraging. Whether you are a new small group leader or an experienced group leader, there are elements for everyone. The videos are easy to follow and will be an excellent resource in supporting small group leaders.

Di (from Brazil)

Pastor Gregg Farah is the real deal and his ministry of making each one of us a better disciple of Christ is in complete alignment with God's will. I totally support and wholeheartedly recommend his course to anyone who is serious about their walk with Jesus.

Michael (from Illinois, USA)

The Small Group Leader Training course answers the question of why we have small groups, how to create a healthy environment, and gives guidelines for time management and setting the atmosphere. I especially liked the recommendations for how the leader can ensure groups members get the most out of their time together. I also liked the ideas for how to handle personal issues that may come up during the group.
